Why SummerQuest?

SummerQuest at Princeton Montessori School is a wholesome, stimulating, nurturing experience for your child. The summer program, although implemented with a Montessori approach and seasoned teachers, is unique and separate from the school year, in that the novel experiences we design for your children evolve around: outdoors, crafts, special field trips and visitors, theater, friendships, and favorite traditions like gardening, building teepees and forts in the woods, and time for daydreaming and unstructured time with familiar and new friends.

<th>Our Playful Nature</th>
<th>Meet Chris Moran! Chris grew up playing every sport under the sun, climbing trees, exploring the woods, and roughhousing with friends which fostered a lifelong passion for movement and nature. Today Chris brings that passion to life while teaching movement in the natural environment. This summer, Chris will work with the Elementary students in the third 2-week session, leading the kids in building their own natural play apparatus and using the school grounds in ways they’ve never thought of! For Primary, he will be working with the teachers to create natural play areas and teaching the children to trust and enjoy nature while developing their balance, agility, creativity, and strength. His playful nature and love of nature are contagious and we know your kids will treasure their new experience with Chris!</th>
